Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Thursday 23 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Windy tonight. Patchy rain Friday morning, brighter afternoon.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy with outbreaks of light and patchy rain and drizzle overnight, perhaps drier for Caithness and Sutherland and around Inverness. Windy with strong westerly winds, occasionally gale force in the north. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Friday:
Cloud, breezy start on Friday with some occasional rain, but becoming bright and dry from the north by early afternoon. Strong winds easing throughout the afternoon. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Strong winds continuing over the weekend with occasional rain extending northeast, some dry and brighter interludes too. Blustery showers likely on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.